

The Bulletin

Your Weekly News Update from The Suthers School

In Brief:

- ◆ Our Word of the Week was 'idiosyncratic'. Be yourself / celebrate what makes you an individual!
- ◆ The first rewards have been claimed from the House Point Shop and we have launched an Easter Prize Draw.
- ◆ Well done to our Brilliant Book Award participants who voted for the winning book—A Seven Letter Word By Kim Slater (see below).
- ◆ Finally! The parent accounts are now up and running in Agora. Please now go online to register your account using the link previously emailed.

Brilliant Book Award Winner!

Follow us on Twitter @Suthersschool

Our First Prize Draw and More!

This week saw the launch of our very first House Point prize draw—students who have earned at least 25 points will be able to enter our Easter 'Eggstravaganza' for the chance to win a whole basket full of chocolate eggs! House Points can be earned for excellence in terms of effort, participation, attendance and achievement. Points can also be picked up by students who actively support our 'Work Hard, Be Kind' philosophy.

There was also cause for celebration this week as the winning entry in the Brilliant Book Award 2018 was announced. There were twelve students in our Brilliant Book Award team and they did a great job reading and reviewing the books on this year's shortlist—they did such a great job in fact that the book they judged to be the best (A Seven Letter Word by Kim Slater) actually won the top prize overall. Well done to all involved! Copies of all six of the books on the shortlist are available in our library now and copies of the winning book will soon be available in the House Point Shop. Suggestions for other book titles to be added to our shop can be submitted online using the suggestions tab in EPrise.

Our student-run library is open Monday and Wednesday lunchtimes.

#BAFTAKids Selfie Competition

Here's a snapshot of some of the fab entries for the BAFTAKids 'Be Yourself' competition run in association with Place2Be and part of Mental Health Awareness Week 2018. Winning entries stand a chance of being featured in an animation by Karrot Entertainment. Good luck everyone!

Past week

Treswell Edge Out in Front

Congratulations to Skylark House, this week's top-performing team (See left). With 42 points earned this week, Treswell are back in the running to claim the next non-uniform day as House Point Champions for Term 4. Keep up the hard work everyone!