A CELEBRATION OF 'STEM' AT THE BIG BANG FAIR

PD Day 2 saw all of our students travelling to the NEC in Birmingham this week for an action-packed celebration of all things science, technology engineering and maths (STEM). Students had the chance to explore potential careers, talk to experts, take part in workshops and watch some pretty incredible demonstrations. From hands-on experiences of drone flying and bomb disposal to mind-blowing talks on technology, many walked away with bags full of goodies—but even more importantly, many walked away with inspiration and ambition for the future. Undoubtedly a day to really let your curiosity run wild!

TITLE RACE: ATTENBOROUGH ARE ON THE ADVANCE!

The reds have put in a top performance over the last 7 days, putting themselves into close contention for the title of House Point Champions this term! With just 3 weeks to go it is looking like a three horse race—or will Treswell come from behind to triumph? #optimism

SCHOOL BUILD UPDATE: OUR FUTURE HOME IS TAKING SHAPE

Shaping up nicely: a picture of our build shared on Facebook this week.

This week we met parents of our new Year 7s who will be joining us in September—it was great to be able to meet so many new people and to be able to share recent updates about our new school build. As you can see (left) our brand new building in Fernwood, Newark, is really starting to take shape! #suthersishere
